WANTED A CORONER.

It is surpassing strange that with all the lawyers and escribanos we have in Buenos Ayres, all the politicians poring night and day over bad translations of Kent, Curtis, and Story, all the sighing and longing to reform our constitutions, codes, and statutes, not one single Argentine has hit on that which is most required, and which no civilised country should be without, a coroner. Dr. Alsina admits that he has studied every code published west of the Wall of China; he has, in compiling a few agricultural regulations, brought all his talent and erudition to bear on the subject, and yet it has never occurred to him, in comparing notes, that bad as our civil code of laws is, the criminal is ten times worse. Dr. Velez Sarsfield even seems to eschew the subject, for we notice that although he occupies himself with everything else, from the affairs of the bank to the interminable politics of Cordova, he never treats of the scandalous state of the prisons of Buenos Ayres and the farce of our criminal judicature. Murders and sudden deaths are now of such frequent occurrence, that they almost pass unnoticed. The corpse of the lottery boy in the Gov. House is a mystery to this day. The murder in the Policia last month is such a secret, that beyond the Chief of Police and the policemen, no one knows anything about it: the dead 'serenos' in the streets in town, the murdered sheepfarmers and 'peones' in the camp; they are all wrapped in the most impenetrable mystery. And why? Because in Buenos Ayres there are no coroners, no officers whose duty it is to investigate into all such cases, examine the neighbors, and empanel a jury. Now, we put it to Dr. Alsina whether it is not better to turn his attention to these matters than occupy the public time about conventions for reforming the Constitution on matters which nobody cares sixpence for?

The state of the prisons is such, that if some steps are not taken, there will be no room for any more prisoners. A criminal trial in this country is more tedious than a Chancery law suit at home. Rarely if ever a prisoner is tried within twelve months after the perpetration of the crime. However difficult it may be to change the criminal code, until we get an entirely new class of lawyers, at least one move in the right direction would be for the Government to name a coroner in this city.

If a fire occurs in the town the Chief of Police, as soon as the place is burnt down, is at once on the ground, and takes down all particulars to report to the Minister; but if a murder is committed everything is secret; not a word to be said or published, and the reason alleged is, that if the particulars were published it might possibly defeat the ends of justice and give the guilty time to escape. But this is a mere subterfuge and an excuse for the Chief of Police.

We, therefore, in consequence of the great increase of murders, and the number of unknown corpses found about the town, demand of Dr. Rawson immediate action in the matter. In the United States, that great model for Buenos Ayres, there are coroners in every town, and why not have one here also?

The assassination of the 'serenos,' which has caused such a noise, is also another striking proof of the great necessity of a coroner in this city. Are our readers acquainted with the facts? Do they know that the bloody tracks of one of the wounded assassins was traced for squares and squares? Again, look at the lottery-boy murder. Had we a coroner in this city, is it to be supposed that all the special pleading of the fiscal would have saved the owner of the handkerchief found on the corpse?

A coroner is wanted in this city more than a Congress. Crime is on the increase; the public never get at the facts; the prisons are full of accused men; the crimes for which they are charged are already forgotten, and none take any interest in the matter.

We have yet, we hope, the right to call public attention to this matter, notwithstanding that we are in a state of siege. Public indignation at the scandalous impunity for crime which exists here must find some vent, and if none of our colleagues dare speak, let it at least be said that we do our duty. There is nothing more required in this city than a coroner; and it is to the shame of Buenos Ayres, with all her vaunted progress, that up to the present we are without these most necessary officers.

ARRIVAL OF THE IBICUY.

SAD NEWS FROM PARANA.

TOTAL DESTRUCTION OF A COTTON GINNING ESTABLISHMENT.

Yesterday the steamer Ibicuy arrivin the Tigre at her usual hour, bringing passengers and mails from up river ports. Our correspondent from Parana sends us the following important despatch.

Paraná, 5th October 1865.

This moment a chasque arrived in town bringing the lamentable news, that the splendid establishment of A. Forrest & Co. was burned down. The fire was caused by a peon of the place lighting a cigar in one of the cotton sheds and carelessly throwing away the remnant, which not being extinguished set fire to the cotton; all the season's cotton on the plantation and all the cotton bought by the enterprizing proprietors was destroyed, and even the machinery did not escape, the fire spread from one galpon to another, and in a few hours this splendid establishment was reduced to ashes. Mr. Forrest has lost everything, not being able to save one cent. Some new galpones which were being erected for three powerful cotton gins, expected to arrive hourly from the States were also destroyed. Luckily these gins had not yet arrived or they would have perished also.

The Forrest plantation was one of the finest in the country, and we are happy to say that, notwithstanding the loss caused by the fire, the wheat crop this year on the estate promises to give a splendid yield. Mr. Forrest is expecting out from the States a reaping machine, by which he hopes to reap all the wheat crop in that locality.

We condole sincerely with our friend Mr. Forrest, on his loss, and hope that some portion of the property was insured.

There was no news from the squadron; nothing known since the Espigador passed down.

It is currently said here that the troops which were to have met at the Estancia del Estado refuse to go. There is some trouble in getting them together. General Jordan Lopez left the Paraná on Tuesday afternoon to look up these men and make them march. He only stopped here for a few days with his family. Jordan Lopez is no relation, either by marriage or otherwise, of Urquiza. General Francia and General Jordan Lopez married two sisters, daughters of Mr. Ramon Puig, merchant, of Paraná.

Sickness still prevails in Paraná, principally amongst the children of the town. The drought is beginning to be felt, but the wheat crop looks well. Great fears are entertained that there will be a great scarcity of hands at shearing time.

Santa Fé, Oct. 4th., 1865.

Things very dull here. The Telmo Lopez fever has subsided, but still many of the townspeople cast now and then wistful glances across the Gran Chaco. Governor Oroño has got up a magnificent telescope by which he can scan the Chaco, and the possibility of his being sold again by an Indian is very remote. The oil-fish factory works well; the colonies are doing well, and will have splendid wheat crops this year. Some Englishmen are travelling about, looking they say for land; although every estanciero from here to Rosario would be only too glad to sell. All the great folks of Santa Fé, are going to the Carcarañá to see the trains running. The Argentino Central Railway will be inaugurated next week.

All the people in Santa Fé are now talking about Mr. Ruding, who, I hear, has promised Oroño to people the Chaco with English, Irish, and Scotch farmers. The land, which the Government has given, is the finest on the face of globe, right on the banks of the Parana, and two days sail from Buenos Ayres.

LATEST FROM THE PROVINCES.

The auction of public lands in Cordoba was attended by several Englishmen: the highest price paid was 910$ (silver) per square leagné, at which rate Mr. Chapeaurouge purchased two lots. Other lots were knocked down at S10$ per league; the total purchases by English or Irish settlers amounted to 26 square leagues. We believe this is the same land which was put up by Mr. Billinghurst in this city, and for which M. Laberge (special commissioner) refused a bid of 1,000$ per square league for the whole.

From Jujuy we hear of a joint stock Co. to work the Petroleum discoveries. The people seemed very vexed at the departure of the Sisters of Charity who had founded a school there last year: their motive for leaving was probably the excessive kindness they had received. The editor of the Orden uses such language respecting these ladies as to give us an exact idea of the civilization of Jujuy. The Government has contracted with Mr. Peters to organize a band of music, at an annual expenditure of 720$.

The Salta contingent on the 9th ult. was at Metan nearly ready to march, waiting some reinforcements. Dr. O'Donnell had to leave behind several sick of the Tucuman contingent.

We hear no more of the Indian inroads on the frontiers of Cordoba and Santa Fé. It is expected the railway from Rosario to Carcarañá will be opened to public traffic on the 15th: the trains now run every day. The remainder of the contingents at Rosario, numbering 800 men, will be ready to embark for Concordia next week, under Colonel Diaz.

MUTINY of the S. JUAN CONTINGENT.

The 'Zonda' of Sept. 16th says:

Last night the Governor received despatches announcing the mutiny of the last contingent. This disagreeable event took place on the 13th about sundown, at a place called Laguna de Silverio: it is calculated to cause great scandal and puts the province of San Juan on a level with those of Cordoba, San Luis, Rioja, Catamarca, Tucuman and all the other upper provinces which have been disgraced by similar occurrences.

Lieut. Col. Rios was escorting a contingent of 120 unarmed men, for the war, the guard consisting of 45 well-armed gendarmes, besides 20 muskets to arm the peons of the convoy in case of necessity. A little after sunset a fellow named Carrizo gave the signal "come on boys!" and the contingent of 120 men vanished like smoke. The guard fired a volley; but the only prisoners remaining were some 30 convicts, also marching to the war. Next day Col. Rios continued his march eastward with the 30 convicts, not troubling himself for the fugitives who appear to have all escaped afoot as they did not carry off a single mule.

It is strange that Col. Rios did not take some steps to save his responsability in the matter, or send out some parties in pursuit as soon as he recovered from the first surprise. Under the circumstances we think he should be at once tried before a court-martial.

The volley fired by the guard did not knock down any of the fugitives, which shews the former must have been at some distance from the mutineers when they cleared out, although prudence would have dictated a close guard on such men. Of the 45 gendarmes Col. Rios could have easily kept 10 on guard at the waggons and 10 more advanced sentinels, which would have prevented the mutiny, or at least succeeded in killing or wounding the fugitives.

MUTINY OF THE CATAMARCA CONTINGENT.

The war-contingent of Catamarca was almost ready to march, when a mutiny took place on the night of the 17th ult. in the barrack: the guard was overpowered and knocked on the head with a stick, and 30 deserters at once cleared out. The Governor sent some parties in pursuit, and a few of the fugitives were already taken.

MUTINY OF THE SANTIAGO CONTINGENT.

General Taboada had arrived near that part of the Chaco bordering on Santa Fé with his 1,300 men, when they mutinied at a place called Viuda, on the 9th ult. and most of them cleared out, except 300 belonging to Tucuman. With the latter he turned back in pursuit of the fugitives along the Rio Salado, and overtook 13 at El Bracho, where he shot the ring-leader. Others returned voluntarily, and he promises to get them all again together. The following is Gen. Taboada's account:

"On the morning of the 9th, when about to continue our march, from La Viuda, some sergeants and corporals of the Santiago regiment raised a mutiny, crying out "we are sold" and rushing on my tent, but I had taken precautions and ordered my guard to fire on the mutineers who numbered about 400. One of the ring-leaders was killed by the volley and three others wounded, whereupon the dispersion began. Of two battalions some 80 men escaped, but the Tucuman contingent [500 men] remained firm, as also my escort. The former continued their march towards Santa Fé under Major Farias's guard, as far as Aguará.

"Col. Fernandez went up the Dulce in pursuit of the fugitives, and I followed up the Salado: on arriving at Fort Cañada I learned from Fernandez that he had overtaken 51 of the mutineers including 4 ring-leaders. It seems the prime-mover was sergeant Varela, instigated by some fellows in Cordoba: 11 of the captured fugitives belong to Tucuman. I took 13 more at Fort Bracho, and shot the leader. The discontent among the men was owing to all the previous contingents in former wars having perished; at least none of them ever returned, and the popular belief was that they were sold for money."

COL. PALLEJA and the PARAGUAYANS.

Major Sosa commissioned a friend of ours yesterday to inform us that the paragraph of Col. Palleja's letter mentioning the decimation of the garrison which surrendered at Uruguayana is a figure of speech likely to produce a false impression. We are very happy to learn from this Correntino officer, who was present on the occasion, that there was no bloodshed, and the confusion caused was owing to the anxiety to carry off Paraguayans, but without injuring them. The word 'decimate' in military language unfortunately conveys a strong image, and we would almost venture to chide the talented war-correspondent for trifling with our feelings. At the same time lest our readers should suppose we took any liberty with his text, we subjoin the original and our translation.

"El Mayor Lopez fué el que dió la órden que saliesen los cuerpos sin armas: cuando los cuerpos llegaron iban diezmados; la caballeria los arrebataba, atropellando todo: no he visto desórden mas grande: habia que bayonetearlos, ó dejarlos hacer."

"The Paraguayan regiments were decimated on marching out unarmed, the cavalry rushing in upon them, until it was necessary to bayonet them."

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday the steamer Ibicuy, with news from up the rivers, arrived. We regret to publish the total loss of Mr. Forrest's cotton establishment near Paraná: this being the first cotton ginning establishment ever started in this country we feel poignantly the loss. Strange to say, the first flock of Merino sheep ever imported into the River Plate also perished by fire, being burnt in a bed of thistles.

The new steamer, La Porteña, was expected up yesterday from Montevideo. We are told, however, that she is being painted anew and will not commence running for a few days.

The little steamer Elena has at last made her trial trip. She dashed down the Riachuelo in splendid style and ran out into the Plate at a speed which completely astonished all the inhabitants of the Boca. We are well pleased that this stern-wheel system has proved so successful.

Farmers from the South tell us that the camps about Ranchos are in a shocking state for want of rain. Yesterday we had a couple of light showers, but a storm impends and at the change of the moon we expect torrents of rain, as the weather is extremely close.

Next week will be a great week for auctions, first at Mr. Brittain's, then at Mr. Thornton's, and then, on the top of the mole head, the splendid English steamer Virago. Mr. Billinghurst is the hero of the hour. We hope the steamer will sell well, as she is beyond question one of the finest and swiftest boats that ever entered this harbor.

The new branch of the Provincial Bank at Chivilcoy is at last opened. Señor Larravide has been named manager. We hope the Bank will prove of utility to the farmers and make advances on growing crops.

In noticing the other day the many improvements going on in the Plaza Once de Setiembre, we forgot to remind our readers that a tramway from the Plaza Victoria to the Once is talked of. The depot in the plaza will be somewhere in the vicinity of the commodious deposit store of Mr. Daniel Hayes, the well known and popular wool-broker, but the season is now so far advanced and the delays in the Government House so notorious, that we fear our country friends this year will have to ride down in the old omnibuses. Great, however, as the improvements in the north end of town are, there is no spot in Buenos Ayres making such rapid strides as Barracas. The Boca Railroad works are now nearly finished to the bridge, while the Southern Railroad is pushing on a branch which will have a terminus hard by Mr. Marshall's ship-yard. This branch is built for the convenience of the sheepfarmers; it will run through that celebrated barraca where the first Argentine cotton was baled last year—the Barraca del Atalayo, the property of Mr. William Kelsey—it there skirts the barraca of the famed German wool buyers, Messrs. Mohr & Clausen, who have the reputation of always paying the best price. This branch will so diminish the expense attending the removal of wool from the plazas that the buyers can now afford to give an extra five dollars per arrob. Almost within a stone's throw of the station of the Southern Railroad branch will be the terminus of the Western Railway branch, which is now being carried on in fair earnest. The little Plazoleta at the Tres Esquinas, the property of a couple of speculative English gentlemen, is being so changed that our friends from the South will not recognize it. Marshall's premises, his steamers, and his galpones meet the eye on all sides. A new two-story house, English fashion, is going up and faces the muddy beach of the Riachuelo. On the other side of that commercial Jordon is the saladero of an Italian gentleman who a few years ago was working at twenty dollars per day in the vicinity. 'En fin,' we have not now room or time to dwell on all that is going on in the shape of improvements in Barracas—we advise our readers to take a $5-trip to the Tres Esquinas on the railway and judge for themselves.

The old saying "It is better to be born lucky than rich," holds good. The members of the Edorall family, many of whom have been so many years resident in Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, inherit by the death of Dr. Leadham, of Burton-on-Trent, a splendid estate in Staffordshire. One branch of the editorial department of the 'Standard' will come in for a share of the property.

There has been some very serious dispute in the Oriental camp before Uruguayana, which has resulted in General Flores sending two or three of his best officers to Montivideo.

It is said that in Estigarribia's baggage a manuscript book on military tactics, and also a manuscript Spanish dictionary, were found, which shows that printed books must be very scarce in Paraguay.

In consequence of some despatches taken on the person of Telmo Lopez's vaqueano, General Urquiza at once sent off orders to Beron ordering him to present himself without delay at San José. Many believe that there are others implicated besides Beron, in these despatches.

The Oriental Government has ordered gold medals for all the Oriental soldiers who fought at Yatay: these medals are to be worn on the breast with blue and white ribbons. The state of the Oriental Exchequer must be in a flourishing condition to admit of this expense, or the medals must be extremely small. However the gold medals are only for the general officers, silver for the subaltern officers, and brass for the men.

Fifteen French soldiers that arrived two days ago from Europe have been sent off with some other men to Keen's Regiment in Concordia.

The Captain of the Port has very properly issued a fiat against steamboat racing. The Iron King and Uruguay ran a splendid race the other day, and in consequence of several complaints from the passengers the Captain of the Port has strictly prohibited all such races henceforward. This is a lucky business for some steamers, as there was talk of the Virago showing her speed. We have to thank the Captain of the Port for this measure. It meets with general approval. The Mississippi is not the River Plate.

General Castro, at the head of 1500 men, and Reguera with 700, are now at the pass of Itapua, and, we suppose, near Paraguay Proper. They report the country about there completely deserted. No Paraguayans to be seen about.

Up in Jujuy we hear again of our old friend, Corporal Stab. He has resigned his post as bandmaster, and we believe is gone looking for 'petroleum.' A joint stock kerosene company has been established; capital nominal, until the kerosene is discovered.

Vice-President Paz has promulgated a rather important decree touching the 'comisarios' who are employed to pay the soldiers. These gentlemen must report in 15 days after they receive the money to whom they paid, and for what. We are well pleased to see this decree, as there are many complaints.

The right of the National Government to tax our exports is now a disputed question. Although the law provides for it, it is said to be contrary to the true spirit of Republicanism, and also to the Constitution. It is urged that the National Government can only tax the imports, and the tax on exports is purely provincial. In order fully to discuss this matter, a convention will be held in Santa Fé on All Fool's Day (the 1st of April): for the producing interests it is quite immaterial, for in no case will the tax on exports be abolished. The question is simply to whom it should be paid, President Mitre or Governor Saavedra.

To-morrow a grand banquet comes off in Montevideo to commemorate the fall of Oribe and the conclusion of his siege. Over one hundred and fifty persons have subscribed for the dinner.

The Professor Suringa, a Dutch brig, leaves to-day for Bahia Nueva, with Mr. Harris, the agent of the colony, on board. This vessel takes every class of provisions on board, and from Patagones two hundred milch cows are being sent down. We were visited by Mr. Harris yesterday, who gave us several interesting details, which we will publish to-morrow. We are happy, however, to remark that the agent of the colony seems to be indefatigable in his exertions to promote the comfort and prosperity of our fellow-countrymen.

PRACTICAL JOKING IN MERCEDES.

Mercedes, Sept. 29th 1865.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,—

Under the above leading there is an article in yesterday's paper relative to Sor. Mautelen's publication in the 'Tribuna.' I enclose a letter from Mantalen's employer, Sor. Picot, to Dr. Gonzalez, brother-in-law of Justice Cardoso shewing the absurdity of Mautelen's proceedings. In the petition to the Criminal Judge the same individual demanded the liberation of the peon Carbanza, although he had been already set free the day before, when the news of the surrender of Uruguayana arrived and the Justice of Peace liberated several in honor of the event. Carbanza when interrogated denied point-blank that either of the Messrs. Picot had sent the parcel, and for this he was arrested, but only remained an hour in confinement.

Begging you will have the goodness to translate and publish the enclosed letter.

I remain &c.

Liborio Torroba.

Mercedes, Sept. 28th.

To D. Mariano J. Gonzalez.

My dear friend and Dr.

A every deplorable circumstance requires an explanation from me to you. What must you have thought of me when I called to see you on Tuesday evening! I had just then arrived from the camp and knew nothing of Mautelen's conduct, or of the trick played by my brother Juan Bautista on Justice Cardoso, which has made so much noise. The matter would have been a trifle but for the stupidity of the peon. As yet I have said nothing to Mautelen, as he is sick in bed; but on visiting a friend I learned the whole affair and the intention of Mautelen to publish an insulting document against my friend Justice Cardoso, I was much annoyed, and prepared to start yesterday for Buenos Ayres to beg my friends the Varelas not to publish the document, but it was too late.

It only remains for me to clear myself in this matter by declaring the respect and friendship I feel for Sor. Cardoso, of whom also my brother has received reparted marks of kindness, and we declare ourselves wholly innocent of the scandal caused in our absence by our empty-headed agent, Mautelen, who improperly used our name, thereby causing imputations to me and my brother. I trust, however, that you never judged me capable of such felony, and that the ties of gratitude and friendship which bind me to your family cannot be severed by the misconduct of one of my servants.

Begging you will accept this explanation for myself and brother.

I remain &c..

Felipe A. Picot.

GENERAL POST-OFFICE.

THE BOCA, BARRACAS & ENSENADA RAILWAY.

A branch receiving office has been established at the terminus of this railway, under the charge of D. Juan Crobetts, in the same manner as those already existing at the Northern, Southern and Western railway stations. It will be dependent on the central post-office, where mails will be made up at 9. 30 a. m. for the Boca and Barracas. Correspondence from the latter places will be forwarded to the Central office at 1. 15 p. m. The Central office will make up a second mail-bag at 3 30 p. m. for the Boca and Barracas under charge of said postman, who will moreover, deliver any letters for those destinations arriving by mail-packet from Europe.

In virtue of the above, notice is hereby given to the public in general and to the foreign residents of the Boca and Barracas in particular, that they may avail themselves of this branch service, which is supplied with postage-stamps and fully instructed in every particular.

OUR PAPER-MONEY AND SAN JUAN SILVER.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,—

Seeing that the question of the paper dollar is being mooted again in the National Chambers, and that most people have had something to say about it, adding thereby their different schemes for its redemption, I beg you will excuse me if I offer my mite of ideas to the general lot.

It is clear that a circulating medium, positively having no redeemable securities, (for we see that Government, by the price fixed, is indisposed to part with its lands), is fictitious: that is to say, fictitious so far as the Government is concerned, but having its full comparative value on the Bolsa, or in other words, by the public. Neither is the monthly burning from the customs revenue a sacrifice by the Government, but by the people. We therefore see that the latter process only withdraws from circulation a certain amount of paper money, but gives nothing in circulation in return; here the equilibrium was lost. The Government lands might have been sold at the price demanded, which I consider was a safe figure, but at the same time clearly indicates that the Government had no intention of being the loser, or even making a sacrifice.

My proposition is simply this: let the Provincial Government or Bank purchase silver in bullion from the San Juan mines and coin it here. This latter part of the work could be done without any, or at very little, expense, for the alloy used in a silver dollar would take the place of silver sufficient to balance the account. Perhaps, if the bank funds are low, the standard of the silver dollar could be made low also; and as these funds increased, new emissions could take place of dollars further refined. This, of course, would give room for speculation, as the new dollars would be worth more than the old, but this could scarcely be avoided. It would then depend entirely on the Bank to put a final stop to speculation, by refining their specie as rapidly as possible.

In a commercial point of view it would be of the highest importance to the Province of San Juan, and give an immense impetus to its mining. It would prevent our having recourse to foreign loans, and thereby injuring our credit, for the nation, like a man who is always borrowing, at last loses its credit and becomes bankrupt.

I am Gentlemen,

Yours obediently,

SILVER.

AWFUL STATE OF THE ROADS.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,

It is all very well for the illustrious public of Buenos Ayres celebrating every few months the opening of new lines of railway, which, doubtless, are of immense benefit to the country, and of especial benefit to residents like yourselves in such suburbs as Barracas, the Boca, Belgrano, &c.: but we think attention should be called to the state of the principal outlets from this large and populous town. It is still green in our memory your pertinacious advocacy of the 'Hole in the Mole' question. Would that you would take up the 'public road and Municipality abuse' with the same ardor.

In another month there will be a continued stream of wool-laden carts pouring into our markets, and at the present moment the south market, or Mercado Consumo, is unapproachable from the south. The new lines of roads, which are in the hands of a private company, all diverging in one common centre from the south and west, are maintained in fair condition, but from the Corrales del Cetto, or public killing ground to the south market and Calles Buen Orden, or in other words from where the Municipal authority commences, we have one series of immense tracks in the road capable of swallowing up carts, bullocks, and drivers. This state of affairs is most assuredly disgraceful in the extreme, and calls loudly for redress. At present they can be easily repaired, as your old enemy, 'king mud,' has disappeared, but nothing is done, and should we have a few days' rain, the principal entrance to the capital from the country will become quite impassable.

Cash sales, 23,480.

Some of the leading brokers had heavy orders to-day. In the morning patacons improved five centissimos, but in the afternoon they fell off to their opening price. For Saturday the sales were unusually heavy, owing to many transactions having been postponed at the end of the month. For the end of October 99,000 were sold at 26 30. For the end of November 36,000 at 26 30. In National Bonds 5,000 were sold at 42, with a firm tendency; the rate of the amortization is not yet known, but there is a decided feeling on 'Change that the bonds will improve. One of our leading English brokers has made a computation that, amortising the bonds at the present rate, the whole debt, which is computed to be about fifteen millions, will be redeemed in 13½ years. We learn on good authority that the Bienhechors de la Plata Co. holds some 200,000 of these bonds, and several leading English houses also have large amounts which are held for investment and will not be tendered for amortization at these low rates; the bonds are, therefore, regarded as cheap at their present rate.

The meeting of the promoters of the new bank, which we referred to yesterday, came off at the appointed hour. Several leading city men, who take an interest in the new concern, attended. We are happy to remark that the objectionable clause about the 200 shares has been stricken out. To-day the matter was greatly talked on 'Change. All the 'almaceneros' and native capitalists to a man support the new bank, so we may regard it as a 'fait accompli.'

Gold is felt very easy. Every steamer from the rivers brings down Brazilian coin. The dealers are most punctual in their payments, and money seems to be easy and abundant in all the small towns from the Tigre to Goya. Paper money is coming into demand. Some of the first 'barraquero's' names in town are offering for very large sums at 60 and 90 days. Several millions have been already lent for 60 days at 1½ to 1¼.

Money seems to be very abundant in Montevideo. The monthly statement of the Maua Bank for September shows over two millions of specie on hand, which, when the trade of the place is taken into account must be regarded as enormous.

Some new wool of rather inferior quality arrived to-day in the Once; we believe it is not yet sold; the highest price, we are told, offered for it was 60. In the South Plaza three cartloads of old wool arrived to-day, but has not yet been sold. The ship captains seem to watch the wool market with as keen an interest as the farmers. Freights are looking up, and captains hold off from the shipbroker's offices, biding their time until the wool arrives. One of the most persuasive of our shipbrokers vainly tried to-day to charter a small vessel at current rates, but failed. Freights are firm with an upward tendency.

The American steamer, Porteña, will be looked for to-morrow, with Mr. Folmar on board. It was said she would be detained in Montevideo to be painted, but this seems to be a mistake.

Exchange on England, France, and Italy ruled active; there was a good deal done in first class mercantile bills on England at 49¾ and 49½; the Banks are also drawing, and a leading English broker informs us that the rate will probably go up.

Nearly all the shares of the Coliseum are now subscribed for. We understand that there are only ten disposeable.

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

No. 103 Calle de Cangallo,
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artizans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and will open a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo, from Nine a.m till Three p.m on Week Days, and on Sundays and Holidays from Ten a.m. to Twelve m., for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, September 19, 1863.

P.p. Mauá and Co.

The Bienhechora offers three various modes of Insurance to its subscribers: 1st, with the loss of capital by the death of the Insured party; 2nd, without loss of capital in said event; 3rd, with mere compound interest.

In the first form the Insured party has a right to:

1. To compound interest on the bonds purchased by the capitals received by the Company.
2. To a propertionate share of the capitals and interest of those who die in their respective sections.
3. To a proportionate share of the Capitals and Interests of forfeited subscriptions.
4. To a proportion of gains resulting from increased value of the National Bonds acquired by the inversion of funds.

In the second form the Insured claims

1. Compound Interest on the National Bonds purchased by the Association,
2. A proportionate share of the Interest due on the Capitals of those who die in the respective sections, which capitals are returned to the subscribers
3. A proportion of the interest due on forfeited shares.
4. A proportionate share of the profits arising from the increased value of the National Bonds, acquired by inversion of funds.

Finally, in the third form, gives a right to the corresponding interest produced by the Bonds purchased with their subscriptions, and the successive reinvestment of such interest, effected quarterly, when the coupons are paid up by the public treasury.

So marvellous are the benefits arising from the employment of Capitals in Public Funds, assisted by the combinations effected by "La Bienhechora," based upon the Mortality Tables of Deparcieux, and the interest produced by the 6 per cent. Consolidated Bonds, that taking for a model, the result given by other companies established precisely in the same form and basis, but with an accumulative interest much inferior to that gained by the "Bienhechora," that it is enabled to present as positive the following tables showing the gradual progression of capitals for a subscription of:

100 Silver Dollars annually, with loss of Capital through the death of the Insured.
